CHURCH WORSHIP

The emergence of the omicron variant of the virus and its rapid growth in the population is a source of concern and as a precautionary measure the government have reintroduced some rules such as the compulsory wearing of face coverings in most indoor settings. Our Church is continuing with the best hygiene measures that we can, and services are continuing as they were at the current time.

If you feel unable to return to Church at the present time then please contact the Benefice Office for Communion Wafers.

Letter from the Bishop of Dudley, Martin Gorick

*And God held in his hand
A small globe. Look, he said.
The son looked. Far off,
As through water, he saw
A scorched land of fierce
Colour. The light burned
There ; crusted buildings
Cast their shadows ; a bright
Serpent, a river
Uncoiled itself, radiant
With slime.
On a bare
Hill a bare tree saddened
The sky. Many people
Held out their thin arms
To it, as though waiting
For a vanished April
To return to its crossed
Boughs. The son watched
Them. Let me go there, he said.*

The Coming by RS Thomas 1913-2000

I love this poem by the Welsh poet and priest RS Thomas. It speaks of the coming of Christ that we have been celebrating in this Christmas season. But it speaks too of the suffering of our world, the hunger of so many people, the pillage of the earth itself. It speaks of crucifixion. Jesus does not turn away: 'Let me go there', he said. As 2022 begins we are well aware of the challenges of our times. As the Church of England we seek to become 'Simpler, Humbler and Bolder' in all we do. Climate change demands that we live more simply, more humbly with the earth. It demands that we are bolder with the way we use what power and influence each of may have to make this world a better place. If we have savings, pensions and investments for example, are they invested in ways that help the planet, or the opposite?

It's a good time to reconsider our giving too. How can we be a generous people for the good of God's world? The bible encourages us to tithe, offering 10% of our income to God. Many give 5% to the church, and 5% to other charities, but it is for each person to decide before God what is right for them. What I do know is that financial giving is a spiritual matter, and that money is often the 'sacrament of seriousness' as someone used to put it. January is always a good time to review our giving, and how serious we really are about using what we have been given for good and for God.

Finally, thank you for all you do to keep prayer and hope alive in your church and parish. These are such challenging times, but on my recent twelve-day Pilgrimage of Prayer and Hope, I was able to pray with people in well over 100 churches in every deanery of the Diocese. It has been such a blessing and encouragement to me to feel the depth of prayer and hope in parishes, to experience the kindness and welcome of its people in church after church.

In our Thoughts and Prayers

O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. Tell it out among the nations that the Lord is King.

In the season of Epiphany, we thank you, Lord, that you gave your Son, Jesus Christ, to be the light of the world. As you call us into your marvellous light, may our lives bear witness to your truth. Grant that your church may never cease to proclaim the good news and so enable the light of Christ to shine throughout the world.

While the Covid-19 pandemic continues to bring fear and anxiety to many and puts a huge strain upon the NHS, we pray for all those affected by it. Keep us, good Lord, under the shadow of your mercy. Sustain and support the anxious, be with those who care for the sick, and lift up all who are brought low, that we may find comfort knowing that nothing can separate us from your love in Christ Jesus our Lord.

At the beginning of this New Year, despite all the discouragements and difficulties, it is essential that we retain a spirit of hopefulness. We thank you, O Christ, that you take upon yourself all our burdens so that, freed of all that weighs us down, we may move from worry towards trusting and find the hope that you offer to everyone through the work of the Holy Spirit.

God is our refuge and strength a very present help in trouble: therefore we will not fear

Psalm 46:1 -2a

Amen

St Mary the Virgin, Sedgberrow

We would like to thank all who have helped or attended our coffee mornings. It seemed more like it used to be. We hope the next coffee morning will be on Thursday 24 February. (There isn't one in January).

It was nice to see people admiring the Christmas trees, these will stay until early January. The Memorial tree in the Chancel has baubles on to remember loved ones.

There has been a competition of Village Gardens decorated for Christmas which has enhanced the village. It is certainly worth a drive around to see them.

It is hoped we can look forward to a good year after the last two years.

We are having the hedges and ivy around the Churchyard tidied up.

Reflected Faith Series - Taking Down Christmas

Happy New Year!

January is, of course, the time to take down the decorations and put them away for next year. In many churches however, the Crib scene is left up until the beginning of February - the Feast of Candlemas. That celebrates the Presentation of Christ in the Temple.

It's yet another moment of 'illumination,' and has a number of meanings.

The date 'set' for Candlemas is the 2 February each year and it marks the midpoint of winter, halfway between the shortest day and the spring equinox. So, from that date onwards the days begin to get longer and the nights shorter.

It's the day when we celebrate Mary and Joseph taking their baby, Jesus, to the Temple. The custom was set down in Leviticus chapter 12, where the parents presented the child to the Lord, and received a blessing from the priests. It was a picture of the sacrifice of the first-born son, giving him to the Lord.

Any ideas on a third meaning? (Answer next month.)

As you take down your decorations, think about where you will store them ready for use next Christmas – and also, how carefully you will put them away.

Will the string of lights be a tangled mess of knots when you take them out of their wrappings or will you be able to hang them straight on the tree? One of the biggest concerns is where to put the figure of baby Jesus. It's usually so small in a Crib Set that it is easily lost and then the Crib Set rather loses its meaning!

This month

Have a think about where you put Jesus after Christmas. Not the figure but the 'real' person. He's easily left in a virtual crib as a baby in our minds, just like the wooden or plastic figure in our attics or under the stairs. If we keep Him as that lovely sweet-smelling-cute baby we miss out on His teaching and miracles, we will fail to understand and engage with His massive love and compassion for each of us on the cross – and most importantly His resurrection. Death is not the end.

Not for Him.

Not for us.

And not for our loved ones.

Celebrating the life and work of Louis Braille (4 January)

World Braille Day celebrates the life and work of Louis Braille, a French educator and inventor who was born on 4 January 1809 and who developed the Braille reading system for the visually impaired. His system is virtually the same today.

Louis Braille was blind from a very early age. An accident with a stitching awl in his father's harness making shop left him blind in one eye. It also caused an infection which spread to the good eye leaving him totally blind in both.

In those days there were few educational resources for the blind, but this did not seem to worry Louis Braille who is said to have excelled in his education so much that he won a scholarship to France's Royal Institute for Blind Youth. It was here that he began working on a system of tactile code that could allow blind people to read and write quickly and efficiently. He created a new method that was more compact than a previous one invented by Charles Barbier. His new method lent itself to a wider range of uses, including music – Louis Braille was also an accomplished cellist and organist. He revealed his work to his peers in 1824.

Louis Braille became a professor at the Institute and spent much of the remainder of his life developing his system that was, eventually some years after his death in January 1852 to become recognised worldwide. His system is virtually unchanged to this day.

In 2018, the United Nations recognised the worldwide importance of Louis Braille's contribution to a communications system that has been adapted for many different languages, by declaring that there should be an annual special day, called World Braille Day, and that it should be held on 4 January — his birthday.

The purpose of World Braille Day is to raise awareness about how Braille plays a significant role in the complete realization of human rights in the lives of blind and partially sighted people.

It is not only used for books such as the Braille Bible, which was first published in 1953 and revised in 1990, it is also used on signs in public spaces, such as lift keypads, and doors, and on restaurant menus, and for labelling everyday items such as medications and various documents, for example bank statements.

Citizens Advice Bureau

In 1935, one of the ideas that the UK National Government - a coalition of political parties - considered was the formation of an information service linked with a new social welfare service that it was introducing. By 1938, the prospect of a world war led to the National Council of Social Services being tasked with looking at how to meet the needs of the civilian population in wartime. Their solution was to create throughout the country local 'Citizens Advice Bureaux'. On 4 September 1939, the day after war had been declared, 200 bureaux opened.

The bureaux were run by volunteers working in offices in public buildings and private houses. During the war advice was focussed on the loss of income caused by wage-earners being called up for military service, and helping with food rationing issues, homelessness, evacuation problems and helping to find missing people and prisoners of war.

By 1942 there were 1,074 bureaux many operating from makeshift offices near bomb sites, for example, one was set up in a horse box.

Post war, Citizens Advice services have continued to grow as the nation came to terms with financial recessions and new legislation that affected social welfare, such as the Rent Act of 1957, and more recently the introduction of Universal Credit in 2013.

Alongside government driven demands, Citizens Advice has led many campaigns on housing related issues and commercial injustices such as overcharging by energy companies, and excessive broadband fees.

Now running until the end of this month, Citizens Advice is promoting its Big Winter Energy Saving Campaign to help people cut energy bills and get the financial support they are entitled to. The campaign aims to help everyone make simple changes such as switching energy suppliers or tariffs, accessing discounts or grants, and making homes more energy-efficient. There is a free online energy price comparison tool to help you save money. It uses a full market comparison, is totally independent, and it gives you a customer service rating for the major energy companies. They also offer advice and tips on what to consider when switching and how to check that you are getting all the benefits and help you are entitled to. Full information about Citizens Advice and the Big Winter Energy Saving Campaign can be found at:

<https://www.citizensadvice.org.uk/about-us/our-work/our-campaigns/all-our-current-campaigns/besw/>

All Citizens Advice free services are within reach of everyone in the country via face-to-face meetings in its local offices, by telephone, or through its digital online services — in 2019 online advice was used for more 29 million enquiries.

Plough Sunday is on 9 January in 2022.

Traditionally, Plough Sunday has been observed on the First Sunday of Epiphany since the Victorian age, however, it has a much older association with the first working day after the twelve days of Christmas, hence the phrase Plough Monday used in some places.

In the past, ploughs were often kept in the parish church and were blessed at this service. After long winters, during which farm work was scarce, the observance of this agricultural festival looked ahead to the time of sowing and the promise of harvest to come.

Although the nature of farming has changed over the centuries, today Plough Sunday is still seen as a way of celebrating farming and human labour more generally near the start of the calendar year. It is an opportunity to cherish the land and to remind us all of our dependence upon it and upon God.

Toy Service held at St Andrews on 5 December

The congregation donated in excess of 40 gifts and toys, which will go to those children of Evesham who are in need of present this year

We will be asking the Adventure Playground to help us distribute these again this year!

Thank you for your generosity

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

This is traditionally held between 18-25 January.

The theme for this year was chosen by the Middle East Council of Churches:

“We saw the star in the East, and we came to worship him” (Matthew 2:2).

More than ever, in the difficult times we’ve witnessed, we need a light that shines in the darkness and that light is a gift, an indication of God’s loving presence for all humanity. The Magi reveal to us the unity of all nations desired by God. They travel from far-off countries, and represent diverse cultures, yet they are driven by the same hunger to see and know the new-born king.

Christians are called to be a sign to the world of God bringing about this unity that he desires. Drawn from different cultures, races and languages, Christians share in a common search for Christ and a common desire to worship him. The mission of the Christian people, therefore, is to be a sign like the star, to lead all to Christ, and to be the means by which God is bringing about the unity of all peoples.

For all those who are sick, in special need or housebound

For those who have died, and all who mourn them:

Looking Ahead for 2022

The big event of 2022 will surely be The Queen's Platinum Anniversary of her ascension to the throne on 6 February 1952. It not only marks her 70 years of service as Queen but reflects the fact that she is the longest reigning monarch in British history. It is not going to be a one day event, but a celebration that will last 18 months or more. It began last May with the launch of the Queen's Green Canopy project, in which villages, towns, schools, colleges, companies, and individuals are encourage to plant a tree to both celebrate Her Majesty's Jubilee and save the planet!

Three of the most popular Royal sites for visitors - Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, and the Palace of Holyroodhouse - will all be staging special exhibitions and events.

Buckingham Palace summer openings return in 2022 with stunning portraits of The Queen by photographer Dorothy Wilding, along with items of personal jewellery worn for the sittings. At Windsor Castle, the Coronation dress and robe of estate worn by The Queen will be on display, while at the Palace of Holyroodhouse you can see a display of outfits worn by Her Majesty on occasions to celebrate the Silver, Golden and Diamond Jubilees. Entrance to the exhibitions is included in the general admission tickets to the residences.

Help your garden, help your planet

The Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) has launched a modern-day 'Dig for Victory' campaign to help tackle climate change.

It is asking the UK's 30 million gardeners to consider digging up their garden paving and instead to plant trees, grass and bee-friendly flora, to help nature survive.

The RHS has calculated that if every gardener in the UK grew at least one medium-sized tree in their garden, then that would be the equivalent of storing the carbon produced from driving 11 million times around the planet.

The TV presenter Monty Don has said that having pavement or tarmac on your property is one of the 'worst contributions' that homeowners can make to climate change.

The Gardeners' World presenter points out that hard surfaces prevent water from being absorbed into the ground, which is a growing problem because of increased flooding. Writing in the BBC Gardeners' World Magazine, he explains: "We need for excess water to slowly work down into our underground aquifers and make its way gradually to our rivers and out to the sea."

St Andrew's Fellowship – January 2022

At last I am delighted to report that we have had our first meeting since Lockdown, and that it took the form of a very nice Christmas lunch at the Northwick Arms Hotel.

We were 22 in number, Dawn and her staff at the Northwick looked after us very well, and the meal was delicious! We were well spaced out (physically!) and everyone was so pleased to meet up with friends again at last. We were sad to be missing a few members for various health reasons, but we remembered them and wish them all well.

But where do we go from here? I have to say that I think the new Omicrom variant may dictate that. Subject to that, your committee are very hopeful that we may be able to meet again for our AGM in March, but at the time of writing these notes, the variant is increasing rapidly, so I am not committing us to meeting again just yet. Later in the New Year I will contact all members again to see where we are and how members are feeling. If you have any concerns or queries in the meantime, please do not hesitate to call us on 553392.

In the meantime, all that remains for me to do, on behalf of Shirley and the rest of the committee, is to wish you all, each and everyone of you, a really very merry and peaceful feast of Christmas (Let's hope we can keep it in a more or less traditional way!) and a very happy, healthy and blessed New Year 2022.

With our love and best wishes to you all, Shirley and John Lynch.

If you have any queries, please do not hesitate to give us a call - 553392.

St Andrew's CE First School

Successful Learners; Success for Life

A Happy New Year to everyone and we do hope you all had a lovely Christmas. December is always an extremely busy time at St Andrew's.

Reception, Year 1 & Year 2 children wonderfully performed their nativity; they made their parents, carers and staff very proud. The PTFA very kindly organised for the whole school to see an online Pantomime, which they enjoyed watching whilst eating a delicious popcorn treat. We also provided shoeboxes for less fortunate children, and Years 3 & 4 performed their Christmas Carol Concert outdoors.

Also in December, some of our Year 1 pupils assisted Mrs Simpson to arrange the Nativity scene, which was proudly displayed in the school entrance. It was a wonderful opportunity to reflect upon the true reason we celebrate Christmas - the birth of Jesus.

On 17 December, lots of our children wore a Christmas jumper in exchange for a £1 donation for the Save the Children Charity, and we even had a visit from the man himself....yes, Father Christmas!

We are now looking forward to an exciting new term. The New Year is always a special time in a school. At St Andrew's we celebrate the period of Epiphany by looking forward to new beginnings and the exciting times that lie ahead.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH FOR JANUARY

Spiced Pineapple Cake

INGREDIENTS

- For the spiced pineapple
- 1 vanilla pod
- 2 star anise
- 50 g unsalted butter
- 75 g light brown soft sugar
- ½ ripe medium pineapple (500g), peeled and cut into 3-4mm thick semi-circles
- For the sponge
- 125 g unsalted butter, softened, plus extra to grease
- 100 g light brown soft sugar
- 100 g self-raising flour
- 50 g ground almonds
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 2 large eggs
- 2 tsp. vanilla extract

January

METHOD

Oven 180C/Fan 160C/Gas 4

1. Grease a 20.5cm round cake tin and line base and sides with a sheet of baking parchment.
2. For the pineapple, split the vanilla pod in ½ and scrape out the seeds. Put pod and seeds into a small frying pan with the star anise, butter and sugar. Cook over medium heat for 5min, stirring until melted and bubbling. Scrape into lined tin; cool for 5min.
3. Arrange pineapple semi-circles on top of the caramel, overlapping them slightly and pressing down to level.
4. In a large bowl, beat all the sponge ingredients and a pinch of salt until light and fluffy. Put on top of the pineapple, gently smoothing to level. Bake for 35-40min, or until a skewer inserted into the centre of the cake comes out clean. Cool in the tin for 10min before carefully inverting on to a cake stand or plate. Peel off parchment paper.
5. Serve warm with ice cream, cream or vanilla custard
