Bishop John reflects on his experience of the Coronation of King Charles III

God save the King! Long Live the King! We shouted. What a spectacle was the coronation. They don't happen very often: there were only three in the 19th Century, four in the 20th and this is of course the first in this century.

I was privileged to have a ring-side seat, not as the 113th Bishop of Worcester but in my most esoteric role, that of Lord High Almoner to the King.

The theme of the coronation was service. More moving for me than all the wonderful music, glorious though it was, was the sentence with which the whole thing began, spoken by a young chorister:

'Your Majesty, as children of the Kingdom of God, we welcome you in the name of the King of kings.' The King replied, 'In his name and after his example, I come not to be served but to serve.'

The King is a committed Christian who, like his mother, is someone who has taken to heart the words and actions of Jesus and given such unstinting Christian service all his life: service to all, regardless of colour or creed.

The coronation was a great occasion, an amazing spectacle of pomp and pageantry, but at its heart was our King dedicating his life in service to the King of kings. My prayer is the same one that King Charles knelt to pray before the altar during the coronation.

God of compassion and mercy whose Son was sent not to be served but to serve, give grace that I might find in thy service perfect freedom and in that freedom knowledge of thy truth.

Grant that I may be a blessing to all thy children, of every faith and belief, that together we may discover the ways of gentleness and be led into the paths of peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Bishop John

A Memory of King Charles

The only time I have been in the presence of King Charles was when he was a boy of 3 or 4 in the early 1950s. I was with a group of schoolfriends, and our music teacher, at one of the Robert Mayer Children's Concerts, which were held on Saturday mornings in the newly opened Royal Festival Hall. We were excited to learn that Prince Charles would be there with his grandmother, the Queen Mother. We had an excellent view of the royal party seated in their box overlooking the auditorium. Like his grandson, Prince Louis, Charles became restless after a while and we were disappointed when he was taken out during the concert and did not reappear.

In our Thoughts and Prayers

'The earth is the Lord's and all that fills it, the compass of the world and all who dwell therein.' Psalm 24:1.

June 5th is designated 'World Environment Day'. This year the theme is that people's actions on plastic pollution matter. As a consequence, governments and businesses are taking steps to tackle plastic pollution. But each one of us can also help to reduce plastic usage and wastage. So we pray:

God of life, we praise you for the beauty of creation, in its richness and variety; yet, through greed and ignorance, we scar your world with plastic waste and throw so much away. Make us more like Jesus, treading gently on our common home, and breathe your Spirit on us, that we may care more deeply for your Earth. We ask this through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. Rt Revd Graham Usher, Bishop of Norwich and Lead Bishop on the Environment

Particular attention is drawn to the plight of refugees on 20 June marked as 'World Refugee Day'. Last year, for the first time, the total number of refugees around the world exceeded 30 million. Let us pray for them.

Almighty and merciful God, whose Son became a refugee and had no place to call his own; look with mercy on those who today are fleeing from danger, homeless and hungry. Bless those who work to bring them relief; inspire generosity and compassion in all our hearts; and guide the nations of the world towards that day when all will rejoice in your Kingdom of justice and of peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A month ago has passed since the Coronation of King Charles III. During the coming years much thought will be given as to how the role of monarchy may need to adapt in order to meet the demands and needs of a changing society. We pray:

Lord, in this new phase of service, may Charles know you and the depth of your love ever more richly. May he look to for wisdom to know when to speak and when to stay silent, for courage to choose what is right even if it is unpopular, and for your strength and peace in times of pressure and storm. May he be a source of refreshment and hope wherever he goes. Where wounds are unhealed between nations and communities, work through him to bring reconciliation. And where friendship already flows, enable him to forge even deeper bonds of trust and cooperation. Amen.

God - the Three in One

This month we celebrate Trinity Sunday. The doctrine of the Trinity is one of the most important of the Christian faith, for it goes to the very heart of what God is like. The Bible is quite clear: there is one God, but He is revealed in three 'persons' – the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

Have you ever wondered at what point in the Bible God is revealed as being more than one person? Well, you don't have to read very far: only to Genesis 1:26, where God (Elohim – a plural noun) says: Let US make man in OUR image. (Gen. 1:26)

The Bible reveals a pattern: God the Father lives in heaven and has never been seen. God the Son became the incarnate Jesus Christ, who made known to us the Father, and God the Holy Spirit, who is unseen, has been sent to live within and to equip His people, the Church.

The Trinity is basic to our salvation – for these three persons in the one Godhead have combined to save us from our sins: it is the WILL of the Father, the saving WORK of the Son, and the indwelling WITNESS of the Holy Spirit. (John 14:16, 23-26).

Worcester Diocese Ordinations 2023

This year's ordinations will take place over the weekend of 1 and 2 July.

Curates who have completed their first year of training will be ordained Priest on Saturday 1 July at 2pm. After their ordination, they will be able to preside at Holy Communion.

All of those being ordained this weekend will have undergone a process of discernment to understand that this is the particular vocation that God has called them to. Priests are called to shepherd and lead people in their worship of God and mission to the world. They do this through a ministry of word and sacrament. Amongst those to be ordained Priest are some familiar names:

- Andy Green, serving in the benefice of Evesham with Norton & Lenchwick
- Caroline Green, serving in the benefice of Evesham with Norton & Lenchwick
- Sarah Hewitt, serving at St Stephen's in the Redditch Holy Trinity Team

All are welcome to come along to the ordinations to support the Candidates.

Father's Day

Father's Day began because way back in 1909 there was a woman in Spokane, Washington, named Sonora Louise Smart Dodd. That year she heard a church sermon about the merits of setting aside a day to honour one's mother. Mother's Day was just beginning to gather widespread attention in the United States at this time. But Sonora knew that it was her father who had selflessly raised herself and her five siblings by himself after their mother had died in childbirth. This gave Sonora the idea to petition for a day to honour fathers, and in particular, her own father, William Jackson Smart. Eventually on 19 June 1910, the first Father's Day was celebrated in Spokane, USA

Gradually, other people in other cities caught on and started celebrating their fathers, too. The rose was selected as the official Father's Day flower. Some people began to wear a white rose to honour a father who was dead, and a red one to honour a father who was living. Finally, in 1972, President Richard Nixon signed a presidential proclamation declaring the third Sunday of June as Father's Day – a permanent, national holiday.

Mission Opportunities at HMP Long Lartin

The Anglican Chaplain at HMP Long Lartin, the Revd Nick Scott, is looking for volunteers to work with him. Could you help?

HMP Long Lartin is a High Security Prison on the edge of the Diocese. Hundreds of men spend their days here, all of them in need of the love of God, but some more than others. After 24 years of ordained ministry, I find myself more blessed than ever to be given the opportunity to serve in this place.

I am seeking people to work with in this ministry, Christians who are willing and able to pray alongside some of those whose lives took a most terrible turn. Throughout my 14 months working here I have experienced great trust and respect from everyone at the prison, but there is no denying that some of the crimes committed by the prisoners are grievous.

We have a group called the "Sunday Friends". COVID sadly reduced its numbers down to four, so we are seeking new friends for this. All that is required is to come along to our Sunday morning worship once a month and be with the prisoners in prayer and fellowship.

For those who have experience of leading worship, lay or ordained, you could be vital in aiding in the delivery of services. Whatever your experience, if you're willing to support or lead occasionally you would be most welcome.

All people would need to go through a security check to enable access to the prison. Once here we are always well looked after by the excellent prison officers. If any of this sounds interesting or something you would like to explore further, please contact me on Nicholas.scott@justice.gov.uk and keep us all in your prayers.

Butterfly Awareness and Education Day – 3 June

Where have all the butterflies gone? by Bob Peters

I have been fascinated by butterflies since my father gave me a small patch of ground at the bottom of our garden about 70 years ago. I could grow anything I liked, so the first thing was to plant some runners from a strawberry patch in the family fruit garden. We lived near Tiptree in Essex where there were acres and acres of strawberries, so the location was perfect.

It was while tending my tiny strawberry patch that I became interested in the visiting butterflies that would always seem to be there.

Then there was a fascinating collection of butterflies and moths we had. I can't remember where it came from, but as I was the only family member interested in it, so I claimed it as mine. They were displayed in several boxes with glass fronts. Each specimen had been carefully pinned and labelled with their Latin names which I spent hours unsuccessfully trying to decipher.

My favourite butterfly was a splendid Swallowtail and I always hoped that one day I would see one flying in my garden — there was a remote chance because at that time migrant Swallowtails were said to frequent East Anglia and my garden was only about 100 miles south of their habitat. I never saw one flying wild until I went to the Mediterranean in my adult life.

A bout of Covid a couple of years ago left me without the energy to do much gardening until recently — this lack may have also been age related! However, this year I have been able to get out in the garden a little more and apart for an abundance of thistles, nettles and a variety of weeds, normality is slowly returning. The most striking thing that I have noticed is the lack of the butterflies that I usually like to stop and watch. I know that it is still early in the season, but by now there should be a good number flying around. I have spotted one lonely Brimstone, which is always the first to be seen every year, one Orange Tip, and one splendid Peacock.

So, where I wonder, have all the butterflies gone?

The best source of information on this subject that I have found is the latest 28-page report published by the UK charity, Butterfly Conservation. The report is called The State of UK's Butterflies 2022 and it summarises the key findings as being a massive decline:

In the UK, long-term trends show that 80% of butterfly species have decreased in abundance or distribution, or both since the 1970s.

The report can be downloaded free at: <https://butterfly-conservation.org/state-of-uk-butterflies-2022>

The Struggle

A man found a cocoon of a butterfly. He took it home so that he could watch it come out of the cocoon. On that day, a small opening appeared. He sat and watched for several hours as the butterfly struggled to force itself through that little hole.

Then it seemed to stop making any progress and appeared able to go no further. It just seemed stuck. So that man in his kindness decided to help. Taking a pair of scissors, he snipped off the remaining bit of the cocoon. The butterfly then emerged easily.

The man expected that at any moment, the shrivelled wings would enlarge and expand and the swollen body would contract and the creature would flutter by. It did not happen! In fact, the butterfly spent the rest of its life crawling around. It was never able to fly.

The man in his kindness and haste did not understand the restricting cocoon and the struggle required to get through the tiny opening were God's way of forcing fluid from the body of the butterfly into its wings, so that it would be ready for flight.

Sometimes, struggles are exactly what we need in our lives. If God allowed us to go through our lives without any obstacles, it would cripple us. We would not be as strong as we could have been. We could never fly! Anon

Workshop – Creative Non-Fiction

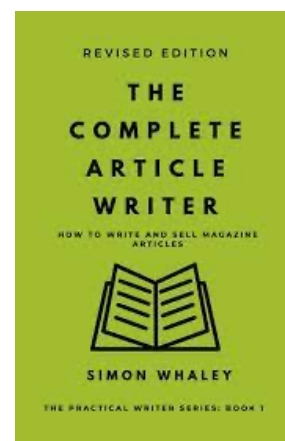

Hampton Guide and Scout Hall

In 2022 Simon Whaley delivered a great workshop on Travel Writing. He returns in 2023 for a workshop on Creative Non-Fiction, which he says is not about making up facts! Instead, it's about being creative in how we convey those facts. Whether you enjoy writing travel, biography or memoir, nature/landscape pieces, food writing or simply want to improve your journaling, creative non-fiction can transform your writing, and, therefore, your reader's experience. This two-hour workshop will explore four creative non-fiction techniques that will make your true stories read like fiction.

Simon began writing in his early teens and after a couple of years saw his first published piece (a word-search puzzle!). Fifteen years later, in January 2004, he packed in the day job to become a full-time writer. He's the bestselling author of One Hundred Ways For A Dog To Train Its Human, among other books, the writer of several hundred British travel, walking and general magazine features, and he's a bit of a photographer, too!

Venue: Hampton Community Hall, Pershore Road, Evesham. WR11 2PQ

Tickets: £15 (including tea/coffee and cake).

Reflecting Faith Series: the Lectern 2

Why not have a good look at the lectern in your church, to see what it was made from and if it has a particular design.

There seem to be two distinct styles for lecterns, either a 'simple' plain book holder or one in the shape of a bird. Both styles are usually made from either wood or gilt metal (brass).

The bird is an eagle - often holding the world in its talons. The intention being that the eagle is known as the most powerful bird, which can fly the highest and longest without pausing and so can take the Word of God - the Bible that it holds - to all the places in the world.

There are 44 mentions of eagles in the Bible, but just two to include here:

In Exodus after the Israelites have left Egypt and crossed the Red Sea they camp in the wilderness, where they are not surprisingly worried about what will happen next. Shall we say 'there's a bit of grumbling and groaning' going on?

So God calls to Moses with words to encourage them, 'The Lord called to him from the mountain, saying, 'Thus you shall say to the house of Jacob, and tell the Israelites: You have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and how I bore you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself.' (Ex 19: 3- 5)

And the second is one to uplift us all when we are in need of support:

Isaiah in chapter 40 is trying to describe how awesome and powerful God is and concludes that even our youth will grow weary in comparison. However, 'those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint.' (Is 40: 30 – 31)

So perhaps as we hear the words of the Bible passage read to us from that symbolic figure we are reminded to both trust in the Lord and to gain inner strength.

This month

As you hear the Bible passage(s) read from the lectern during this coming month, listen not just to the words themselves but reflect on their intention to encourage you.

For all those who are sick, in special need or house- bound:

Ron Allen; Mary Andrews; Mark Bartlett; Victoria Brabin; Brenda Clarke; Brenda Curtis; Ann Fletcher; Duncan Houston; Clifford Lewis; Elve Lewis; Joan Parry

For those who have died, and all who mourn them:

From Hinton ALM - Michelle Young

As I write this, the sun is shining, and the birds are singing outside my window. It is utterly glorious. This time of year when things are growing and new life is all around us, it's easy to be content and happy with our lot. Except I had a visitor to my greenhouse who ate all my veg seeds as I sowed them and so I am very behind on my growing and I might not have any veg to harvest later this summer.

And yes, the bats are busy too. Girls are preggers and boys are staying out the way. All are eating as many bugs as they can each night and the bat phone to Evesham Bat Care is busy, busy, busy. So please remember your stamps and oral care rubbish for me and the critters this month.

You can leave your goodies at the churches or directly into my hands, or hanging off my wing mirror of the bat mobile. There are also collection bins up at Hampton Farm Shop, in Evesham town centre and in a few of the other villages (Badsey, Bretforton, Broadway and Wickhamford) too. Recycling is important, caring for the planet is more important.

And now, we prepare for all the summer events – so get your diaries out and get inputting!

Thursday 25 May is Sedgeberrow Coffee Morning, and also Hinton's PCC AGM

Thursday 22nd June is Sedgeberrow Coffee Morning

Sunday 2 July is Hinton's Summer Fete

Saturday 15 July is the Sedgeberrow Summer Fete

Thursday 24 August is Sedgeberrow Coffee Morning

Finally, I'd really like to take you all out on a bat walk this summer too. We have routes in Evesham and Pershore and Alderton and Beckford. Contact me and let me know if you'd like to join one. Would be lovely to see you and share the passion I have for these critters.

St Andrew's CE First School

Successful Learners; Success for Life.

The first half of the summer term is flying by and the school is a hive of activity. We have been extremely busy, both in and out of school.

In May, we all celebrated the Coronation of King Charles III. Children and staff came to school wearing red, white and blue. We had a very 'Royal Assembly' where everyone sang a wonderful rendition of 'God Save the King'. Twins, Thomas and Noah were very lucky to meet the new King when he popped into St Andrew's!!

Reception Seedling Class also celebrated the upcoming Coronation of King Charles III, by decorating biscuits using red, white & blue icing. They created some wonderful designs!

Two of our pupils, Joshua and Fred, have been keeping the School very clean and tidy. They have been litter picking on the School field. They wanted to make sure no animals ate any rubbish and to ensure the environment was clean and tidy for the children. Joshua is going to make some 'no littering' posters to remind everyone to put the rubbish in the bin. Great work boys!

We always enjoy inviting parents and carers into school, and we have been enjoying our Link & Learn sessions. Last week, Year 5 parents and carers were invited in to learn how we teach reading at St Andrew's, and how important we view reading. It is an essential life skill. Did you know that the average reading age in the UK is nine? We are working hard to ensure our children are fluent readers who foster a love for reading.

Also in May, Year 4 cooked pizza with professional chef, Steve Love, MCA. They designed healthy pizzas that contained carbohydrates, dairy, vegetables and protein and rolled, chopped, grated and cooked the ingredients.

They were delicious - 'Bellissimo'.
