Events In the Benefice

Lent 2021

Just about any arrangement we make at the moment is, of necessity, provisional. On the basis of hoping for the best while preparing for the worst, Mark Binney and I have been considering a Lenten series which we can undertake from the security of home, or in groups, should it be safe to do so. We can even do a hybrid arrangement, so no-one feels obliged to go beyond what they feel safe.

Toward the Kingdom of Heaven is a booklet of daily readings through Lent based around the Sermon on the Mount in Matthew's gospel. The course has been drawn together by Professor Amy-Jill Levine, one of the world's pre-eminent New Testament scholars.

Professor Levine is a member of the Jewish faith and has devoted her life to understanding the New Testament and sensitise students to how each writer would have been heard in the conventions and culture of first century Judea. She teaches as Vanderbilt University in Kentucky.

Her credentials may be found here:

<https://divinity.vanderbilt.edu/people/bio/amy-jill-levine>

Over the past twenty years, I have routinely had one or other of her books within reach, when I have needed to understand an issue in a New Testament text from a Jewish point of view. I have never come away empty-handed.

To get a flavour of Professor Levine, there is a range of videos of interviews and teaching on YouTube. A good introduction is a 17 minute interview with her Jewish Jesus: Amy-Jill Levine Extended Interview which you may find at:

<https://youtu.be/1PDyISl7TGc>

Each day's heading is on the right. Mark and I plan to meet every Tuesday evening in Lent on Zoom. If there is a need to have an additional Zoom meeting during the day, we will be pleased to arrange that.

There is a book to accompany the series (Toward the Kingdom Heaven) which is available from Mark priced at £9 (special discounted price).

You don't have to be Anglican to sign up. Anyone who wants to participate is welcome. Please register your interest in an email to vicar@evesham.church with Lent 2021 in the subject line, so it will go in the right folder.

If you would like a copy of the whole document please contact the office.
